QUAKER OATS TRIVIA

Ferdinand Schumacher founded the Quaker Oats company in 1854, and became known as the undisputed “Oatmeal King of America”.

Akron is known as the home of the breakfast cereal industry.

The silos that once housed 1.5 million bushels of grain are 120 feet tall and 24 feet in diameter. Once white in color, they were repainted “oatmeal” in honor of their beginnings.

Previously known as the “Depot” restaurant, Trakside Grille was once the home of Akron’s Railway Express Agency terminal.
