Criteria, Procedures, and Guidelines for Reappointment, Tenure and Promotion of Regular Faculty in the Department of Associate Studies

Summit College
The University of Akron
Akron, Ohio
November 8, 2010
Guidelines for RTP
Department of Associate Studies

1. The department goals established by faculty, as revised on November 8, 2010, include:

   1.1. Providing general education to students from all departments of Summit College, as well as to other colleges on The University of Akron campus.

   1.2. Providing specialized courses to meet the needs of students in other departments of Summit College and throughout the university.

   1.3. Focusing our teaching skills on the student as the central figure in our work.

2. Because teaching is the foundation of the departmental mission, the department places its greatest emphasis on the effectiveness and quality of teaching in criteria for reappointment, tenure, and promotion.

   Professional and scholarly activity are required. The scholarship of teaching and learning is of equal merit to discipline-based professional activities.

   Service, both to the institution and the community, is required. Service to the community is the area of faculty performance which shall receive the least emphasis for purposes of reappointment, tenure, and promotion. In the area of community service, activities related to the candidate's area of expertise and which bring recognition to the university are considered to be important.

   The faculty member shall exhibit academic and professional conduct in a manner consistent with guidelines set by professional societies and the university.

3. The expectations for teaching effectiveness, professional and scholarly activity, service, and leadership increase each year and with each successive rank. At each level, attainment of the minimum standard is only the starting place for consideration. Surpassing the minimum is expected as faculty seek reappointment, tenure, and promotion. Attainment of minimum standards shall not ensure a positive recommendation for reappointment, tenure, or promotion.

4. To be considered for tenure and promotion to the rank of associate professor, individuals shall have at least an earned master’s degree from an accredited institution of higher education in a discipline relevant to his or her teaching field and a minimum of two years of service at The University of Akron at the rank of assistant professor. The candidate shall demonstrate a record of teaching excellence and competence in his or her area of specialization. Additionally, the candidate shall demonstrate a record of service to the department, college, university, and community as well as professional and scholarly activity. Both the breadth and quality of activity will be assessed. Professional conduct, as defined in the university guidelines, is required.
5. The rank of professor shall be for individuals who clearly demonstrate superior qualifications. For promotion to the rank of professor, the department requires the candidate, since the attainment of present rank, to demonstrate continuing, significant, and sustained:

5.1. teaching excellence;

5.2. professional and scholarly activity beyond that reached at the attainment of the present rank;

5.3. service to the department, college, and university and community beyond that reached at the attainment of the present rank;

5.4. leadership, preferably at the university level.

Both the breadth and quality of activity will be assessed. Professional conduct, as defined in the university and college guidelines, is required.

6. Candidates shall demonstrate progress toward tenure and promotion in each successive reappointment year. The Reappointment Committee shall, in its recommendations, inform candidates who are not making satisfactory progress toward tenure and promotion of the improvements expected.

7. The expectations for teaching effectiveness, professional and scholarly activity, service, and leadership increase each year and with each successive rank. At each level, attainment of the minimum standard is only the starting place for consideration. Surpassing the minimum is expected. Attainment of minimum standards shall not ensure a positive recommendation for reappointment, tenure, or promotion. The department may consider years of service or tenure at an institution of higher education other than The University of Akron in deciding to permit candidates to apply for early tenure.

8. It should be noted that tenure and promotion to associate professor before the sixth year of service will be the exception rather than the rule. More than two years of service will typically be needed for candidates to demonstrate a sustained record of performance. It is recommended that candidates carefully consider the levels and quality of their contributions prior to making application for tenure and/or promotion in a shortened time period.

9. The department chair shall hold an organizational meeting to elect chairs of the RTP committees no later than Week 12 of fall semester.

10. Lacking three (3) eligible department bargaining unit faculty to form an RTP committee, the department chair, in consultation with the candidate(s), shall recommend a college bargaining unit faculty member to serve on the committee. If there is no agreement, the dean, in consultation with the candidate(s), shall appoint from the eligible bargaining unit faculty of the college or university community.
11. Criteria for Quality of Teaching

Teaching effectiveness includes, but is not limited to, mastery of the subject matter, availability to students, and on-going course development and innovation.

The candidate shall demonstrate that the following criteria have been met since his or her reappointment or last promotion. For the criteria of teaching effectiveness, the candidate shall:

14. Professional Conduct

For this criteria, the candidate shall follow the written standards as stated in the Collective Bargaining Agreement.

15. All candidate files (with the exception of Item #15.8 below) shall include at least the following materials:

15.1. A current vita;

15.2. Narrative statement by the candidate addressing the meeting of University-wide and academic unit criteria;

15.3. A table of contents of materials included in the RTP file, which shall be amended to reflect any additions or deletions to the RTP file;

15.4. All previous RTP recommendations;
15.5. Quantitative evidence of work performance, including results of formal teaching evaluations, as well as additional materials required by academic unit guidelines (such as peer evaluations of teaching or letters of support);

If required by academic unit guidelines, qualitative evidence of work performance, which may include, for example, peer evaluation of teaching, written student evaluation comments (along with the rationale for the material included), letters of support for the candidate (along with provenance of such letters), etc., shall also be included;

15.6. Evidence of professional activity;

15.7. Evidence of service;

15.8. External review letters solicited by the RTP committee chair, for tenure and promotion files (see #16 below for information about external review letters).

16. External Review

The review of scholarly publications and/or creative activities, external to the University, is required for tenure and promotion.

16.1. Candidates should limit items in their portfolio to a two-inch binder.

16.2. The portfolio shall include the following items:

16.2.1.1. a summary of departmental criteria for tenure and/or promotion;

16.2.1.2. a current vita;

16.2.1.3. a narrative statement by the candidate addressing the meeting of criteria as well as a chronological summary of their teaching, professional/scholarly, and service activities;

16.2.1.4. copies of most recent syllabi;

16.2.1.5. a sample of a lecture or lesson selected by the candidate;

16.2.1.6. a sample of an exam or student assignment selected by the candidate;

16.2.1.7. one additional piece of evidence, selected by the candidate, which demonstrates teaching effectiveness, professional and scholarly activity, or service.

16.3. The portfolio may include the following items:

16.3.1.1. videotaped classroom performance (not to exceed 30 minutes in length);
16.3.1.2. technological innovations (e.g., Web courses, distance learning projects, Web-enhanced courses);

16.3.1.3. additional representative assignments, tests, quizzes, review sheets, or homework given during the review period;

16.3.1.4. statement of teaching philosophy (not to exceed 500 words);

16.3.1.5. up to 3 letters of support from students, colleagues, or administrators, along with the origins of the letter.

17. These guidelines can be amended by a two-thirds vote of the tenured and tenure-track faculty in residence. A proposed amendment shall be publicized at least one week in advance on the agenda announcing the department meeting at which the proposed amendment is to be considered.
External Review Instructions for Reviewers

Thank you for agreeing to participate in this External Review. This document is an important component in the RTP (Retention, Tenure, and Promotion) process of our faculty. Your review will become part of the Review Candidate’s permanent file and will, in part, be used to judge the candidate’s appropriateness for Tenure and/or Promotion.

This review has been designed to offer documented evidence of the Review Candidate’s effective teaching. The process is intended to be a flexible tool that is fair for all Review Candidates.

Review Candidates must submit to reviewers a Teaching Portfolio containing at least the following:
- a summary of departmental criteria for tenure and/or promotion
- a current vita
- a narrative statement by the candidate addressing the meeting of departmental criteria for tenure and/or promotion
- copies of most recent syllabi
- a sample of a lecture or lesson selected by the candidate
- a sample of an exam or student assignment selected by the candidate
- one additional piece of evidence, selected by the candidate, which demonstrates teaching effectiveness, professional and scholarly activity, or service

Review Candidates may also submit one or more of the following:
- videotaped classroom performance (not to exceed 30 minutes in length)
- technological innovations (e.g., Web courses, distance learning projects, Web-enhanced courses)
- additional representative assignments, tests, quizzes, review sheets, or homework given during the review period
- statement of teaching philosophy (not to exceed 500 words)
- up to 3 letters of support from students, colleagues, or administrators, along with the origins of the letter.

Please respond as fully, accurately, and honestly as you can to address the following areas when writing your review letter:
- The candidate’s degrees, certifications, training, and/or teaching experience qualify the candidate to teach the courses he or she teaches.
- The candidate shows evidence of professional growth or activity in his or her discipline.
- The syllabi present the candidate’s contact information, office hours, grading policies, and classroom policies.
- The syllabi are logically organized.
- Student evaluations and/or student comments suggest that students are satisfied with the candidate’s performance.
• Exams or assignments are directly related to the course objectives.
• Exams or assignments are appropriate for the course.
• Exams or assignments reflect current theory or pedagogical techniques.
• Exams or assignments are designed to measure students’ mastery of course objectives.
• Students’ work appears to be graded according to a clear standard.
• Grading appears to be done in a consistent and logical manner.
• Graded work offers useful feedback to the students.
• If Web content is submitted (not required):
  o Content is well-organized.
  o Navigation cues are easy to follow and understand.
  o Lesson and assignment materials are well-written and presented with clarity.
• Additional observations about the candidate’s performance or qualifications may be included.
