I) Guidelines:

Purpose: In the new contract, Article 16 (Compensation), Section 8 (Merit Increase) (specifically Part (a) (Department Merit Criteria) and Part (b-2) and Part (c) pertain to the assignment of “unsatisfactory,” “satisfactory,” “meritorious,” “outstanding,” and “extraordinary” categories for faculty performance in teaching, research/scholarly activity, and service. Points system: A maximum of 5 points can be accumulated in each category. “Unsatisfactory” = 1, “Satisfactory” = 2, “Meritorious” = 3, “Outstanding” = 4, and “Extraordinary” = 5.

A) For the purpose of annual evaluation and merit review, faculty will be evaluated on a flexible percentage basis in the areas of teaching, research/scholarly activity, and service. Each faculty member in consultation with the Associate Dean of Instruction will develop his/her weightings for teaching, research/scholarly activity, and service; the Associate Dean of Instruction will determine or ultimately approve the final weightings. A minimum of ten percent is required for the categories of research/scholarly activity and service, and a minimum of 60% is required for the category of teaching. This must be done by the Friday of the second week of the Fall semester of the academic year.

B) Each faculty member may elect to choose a variable weighting scale in the areas of teaching, research/scholarly activity, and service components to accurately reflect his/her work. This flexible plan shall be discussed with the Associate Dean of Instruction with the faculty member providing a rationale.

C) If no request is made, the weightings will default to the standard 80% teaching and 10% devoted to research/scholarly activity and 10% service as suggested by the percentages from the Faculty Manual.

D) Each faculty member must submit the merit evaluation percentages and a rationale to the Associate Dean of Instruction by June 15. The Associate Dean of Instruction will either approve the percentage proposal for each faculty member by the second Friday of Fall semester or meet with individual faculty before that date to discuss further. No weighting adjustments can be made subsequent to this date. For the first year of implementation, merit evaluation percentages shall be submitted after the guidelines have been approved. The Associate Dean of Instruction will inform faculty that the guidelines have been approved and will announce the deadline for submission of percentages and rationale.

E) Faculty will receive ratings in the three categories of teaching, service, and scholarly activity. The Associate Dean of Instruction shall automatically use the higher of the two scores (rolling average vs. current year) for each of the three categories for purposes of merit allocation decisions. The rolling average for the first evaluation period shall consist of scores from academic years 03/04, 04/05, and 05/06. Thereafter, each year’s rolling average will consist of the current year’s score and the two previous years’ scores.
F) When new faculty are hired, they will be evaluated in a similar manner utilizing the current year’s score in years one and two. Thereafter, each year’s rolling average will consist of the current year score and the two previous years’ scores.

G) In semesters or years when a faculty member is on PDL (Professional Development Leave) leave, he/she may not have taught or performed college service, but will have research/scholarly activity to show for merit evaluation for that period. In such cases, when the faculty member is evaluated for merit for that year, under the categories of teaching and service, he/she will receive an average of the last three years (prior to PDL) of evaluation scores in those categories. In cases when a faculty member is on sick leave, he/she will receive an average of the last three years of evaluation scores in those categories.

H) Probationary faculty in their first full two years are to place primary emphasis on their teaching component; therefore, for the components of research/scholarly activity, and service, new faculty shall have weightings no greater than 20% for the combined categories of scholarly activity and service.
DEFINITIONS

Categories for the annual review and subsequent recommendations for salary adjustments

Unsatisfactory: Performance of faculty duties and responsibilities that does not meet basic requirements and expectations of a faculty member, including the three areas of teaching, scholarly activity-research, and service. The faculty member’s Merit Evaluation Score is less than 2.0. A faculty member who is determined to be doing unsatisfactory work is not eligible to receive a salary adjustment.

Satisfactory: Performance of faculty duties and responsibilities that meets (but does not exceed) the basic requirements and expectations of a faculty member, including the three areas of teaching, scholarly activity-research, and service. The faculty member’s Merit Evaluation Score falls between 2.0 and 2.9.

Meritorious: Performance of faculty duties and responsibilities that exceeds basic requirements of a faculty member, including the three areas of teaching, scholarly activity-research, and service. The faculty member’s Merit Evaluation Score falls between 3.0 and 3.9.

Outstanding Performance of faculty duties and responsibilities that exceed the meritorious category noted above, including the three areas of teaching, scholarly activity-research, and service. The faculty member’s Merit Evaluation Score falls between 4.0 and 4.9.

Extraordinary Performance of faculty duties and responsibilities that exceed the outstanding category noted above, including the three areas of teaching, scholarly activity-research, and service. The faculty member’s Merit Evaluation Score is 5.0.

Note: All faculty members receiving satisfactory and above ratings will receive across-the-board and merit increases based on the formula detailed in Article 16 of the contract. This formula is based on the individual faculty member’s rating, as well as the total points awarded for members in the same salary pool.
Merit Score Calculations:

Faculty members will submit lists of activities and evidence for each of the categories of teaching, service, and scholarship. The Associate Dean of Instruction will review the documentation submitted and at his or her discretion determine a numerical score for each faculty member. The Associate Dean of Instruction will offer the faculty member an option of a meeting to discuss the final score.

Based on the evaluation, a faculty member will receive a rating of unsatisfactory, satisfactory, meritorious, outstanding, or extraordinary (1 through 5 respectively) for each of the three categories.

A score of 1 is assigned when the Associate Dean of Instruction determines that basic expectations are not being met.

A score of 2 is assigned when the Associate Dean of Instruction determines that basic expectations are met, but no awarding of points resulted from activities beyond basic expectations.

To achieve ratings of 3, 4, or 5, the faculty member needs to accumulate points from three tiers of activities. A faculty member may receive a maximum of six points from each of the three tiers of activity. Tier one assigns 1 – 2 points per activity; tier two corresponds to 2 -3 points per activity and tier three corresponds to 3 or more points per activity (as determined by the Associate Dean of Instruction).

Based on the total points for a category, a ranking of meritorious (3), outstanding (4), or extraordinary (5), will be assigned in the areas of teaching, service, and scholarly activity.

3 – 6 activity points is assigned a “3”

7 – 12 activity points is assigned a “4”

13 – 18 activity points is assigned a “5”

Faculty members, following guidelines outlined under Merit Distribution, I A ,B, C, and H, and in consultation with the Associate Dean of Instruction, will assign percentages to the categories of teaching, service, and scholarly activity. The default percentages are 80, 10, and 10.

For the faculty member’s merit evaluation score, each rating will be multiplied by the appropriate percentage, and the weighted average will be rounded to the nearest tenth. This number will be reported as the faculty member’s merit evaluation score, and will be used with the contract formula to determine salary adjustments.

For example (using the default percentages of 80, 10, 10), if the faculty member receives scores of “3” for teaching, “4” for service, and “2” for scholarship, the score will be $3(0.8) + 4(1.1) + 2(0.1) = 2.4 + .4 + 0.2 = 3.0$.

Scores of 4, 2, and 2 equate to $4(0.8) + 2(1.1) + 2(0.1) = 3.2 + .2 + .2 = 3.6$.

Merit Evaluation Score

$(\text{Teaching Percentage} \times \text{Teaching Rating}) + (\text{Service Percentage} \times \text{Service Rating}) + (\text{Scholarly Activity Percentage} \times \text{Scholarly Activity Rating}) = \text{Merit Evaluation Score}$

These values are calculated and summed resulting in the final score, which will be between 1 and 5, rounded to the nearest tenth, and reported to the appropriate office.
