Rec: Funk & Seamon, Administrative Law & Examples & Explanations, Wolters Kluwer
Rec: Gellhorn & Levin, Administrative Law & Process in a Nutshell, West

Assignment: Register for the TWEN website for the class.

Koch, Jordan, and Murphy, Administrative Law: Cases and Materials, 6th Edition, through Subchapter 1B, pages 1-36.

This material raises a number of philosophical questions:

- To what extent and when is the community responsible for protecting or assuring the well being of its members?
- What is the role of government in meeting that responsibility?
- How should government fulfill its role? Criminal prosecution? Regulation? Providing subsidies or other financial benefits?

Those with last names beginning with A-R should view the materials from Abby's (and her mother's) point of view – skeptical of reliance upon government. (See Lessons 1B.1, p. 9, and 1B.2, p. 29). Those with last names beginning with S-Z should view the materials from the point of view of Ben, the apparently idealistic new agency employee. (I may change the alphabet-based assignments depending upon the makeup of the class.)

What arguments would Ben and his colleagues make in favor of the new Wine Trade Commission? How might Abby or her mother respond?

You need to read through the Wine Trade Commission Act in Appendix I, page 779-791.

Koch, Jordan & Murphy, Chapter 1C.1, pages 36-52

Prepare to discuss the questions raised in Lesson 1C.1, p. 37. In light of the structure of the Wine Trade Commission and the powers delegated to the agency, what constitutional objections might an opponent (Abby, perhaps) raise about the agency? How would an agency supporter respond?

On TWEN, see The Three Branches – Where Agencies Fit. You can also check out other agency organization charts.
