Back From NACA Mid-America Conference in Peoria...

The University of Akron's RHPB attended the National Association for Campus Activities (NACA) Mid-America Conference in Peoria, Illinois from Thursday, October 30, to Sunday November 2. The NACA Mid-America Region is made up of the following states: Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois. Schools from these states were present, as well as schools from other states who could not attend their own region's conference. RHPB had the largest delegation at the conference with 22 representatives. At the conference, the students were able to network with fellow students through "Educational Sessions," view possible entertainers for the spring semester through "Showcases," and meet agents representing all types of entertainers in Campus Activities Market Place, "CAMP". The theme for the conference was "Digging Deeper."

RHPB Receives Top Honors

RHPB was recognized at the conference for their unique and creative programs. They were presented with the following awards: Most Spirited, Most Creative Attire (for construction helmets painted blue and gold with zippy ears), Best Educational Program (RHC, for Officer Training School), Best Multi-Cultural/Diversity Program (RHC, for Around the World Week), Best Series (for the RHPB 7:17 CoffeeHouse Series), as well as the prestigious CAMP Award which is voted on by the associates/agents in attendance, and the "Excellence in Programming Award" in which Megan Gallagher, Zack Hungler, Christina Carabotta, and Ashley Hartman presented at the conference. Megan Gallagher, with the assistance from fellow board members, created the bids and applications for these awards. Congratulations, RHPB, for a job-well-done!

RHPB Board Members Zack Hungler, Christina Carabotta, Megan Gallagher, and Ashley Hartman proudly hold the Excellence in Programming Award.
