

Financial Assistance (page 21 of Graduate Bulletin)

The University awards a number of graduate assistantships to qualified students. These assistantships provide stipends of $6,000 to $22,000 plus remission of tuition and some fees and are available in all departments with graduate degree programs. A graduate assistant renders service to the University through teaching and/or research. For information and applications, contact the department chair or school director. Tuition scholarships are also available in some departments on a limited basis.

A number of fellowships sponsored by industry and government agencies are available in some departments. For information, contact the chair of the department.

Information about student loans can be obtained from the Office of Student Financial Aid.
