

The University of Akron

George W. Daverio School of Accountancy

College of Business Administration

The MTax Direct

For Students Starting in Fall 2016

MTaxDirect.UAkron.edu

The George W. Daverio School of Accountancy at The University of Akron invites you to consider its renowned Master of Taxation (MTax) degree now offered from the convenience of your computer, tablet, or mobile device. Candidates for this program, which we call the MTax Direct, may complete the MTax degree in as few as 15 months.

The MTax Direct permits students to focus their studies in international taxation. The program offers substantive technical and professional knowledge and skills needed to excel as a tax professional.

Students in the program take live classes at a specified time. In case a work obligation or business travel conflicts with the live class, all classes are recorded for later viewing as needed.

This program has many distinct advantages, including:

Convenience – interactive and delivered live via the Internet to a laptop or mobile device, with capability of viewing recorded sessions on demand.

Expert Instructors – highly experienced CPAs and attorneys with expertise in tax.

Practical Emphasis – practice oriented, offering in-depth knowledge that can be applied immediately.

Reputation – 30+ years of reputation for excellence among employers, and graduates are highly recruited.

Focused – accommodates the schedule of busy tax professionals and emphasizes international tax.

Efficient – may be completed in as few as 15 months.

Accredited – the program is accredited by the AACSB, the gold standard for business and accounting accreditation.

Two foundation courses are required prior to admission (Federal Taxation and Financial Accounting) for students who have not had similar classes.

Program features:

- All courses are taught by highly experienced tax professionals.
- Courses offer in-depth knowledge that can be applied immediately.
- Tax practice is emphasized.
- The program has an exceptionally strong reputation among employers, and its graduates are highly recruited.
- Students may complete the program in 15 months.
- Students start the program as a group and complete it together.
- The GMAT is not required for practicing CPAs or for attorneys.
- Apply online by July 1 to assure timely processing.
<http://www.uakron.edu/gradsch>

Contact:

Dr. Thomas G. Calderon
Chair
George W. Daverio School of Accountancy
College of Business Administration
The University of Akron
Akron, OH 44325
Phone: (330) 972-6228
Email: mtax@uakron.edu

George W. Daverio School of Accountancy
The Master of Taxation Curriculum

MTAX DIRECT CURRICULUM

Term I –August - October

6200:628 Tax Research 3 credits

6200:631 Corporate Tax I 3 credits

Term 2:- October - January

6200:643 Tax Accounting 3 credits

6200:651 International Taxation 3 credits

Term 3: April – June

6200:641 Taxation of Partnerships 3 credits

6200:649 State and Local Taxation 3 credits

Term 4: June - September

6200:642 Corporate Tax II 3 credits

6200:693 ST: Adv Topics in Int Tax 3 credits

Term 5: September — November

6200:648 Tax Policy and Ethics 3 credits

6200:693 ST: Global Tax Plan. and Strategy 3 credits

All classes meet one night per week 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. on Mondays or Wednesdays.

Testimonials from Graduates:

“The best part of the program is being able to practically apply academic knowledge to everyday client tax issues.”

*Joel Hamsher, Former Tax Partner
Apple Growth Partners*

“The knowledge gained from the MTax has helped our professionals further their careers and strengthen our practice.”

*Mike Pasternak, Retired Partner
Ernst & Young*

“The MTax augments our internal training making our people well rounded professionals while at the same time allowing our professionals to contribute.”

*Nick Gonnella, Retired Partner
Deloitte*

“Each MTax graduate we employ plays an extremely prominent leadership role in our practice, which is a testament to them individually and to the quality of the program.”

*Jim Bowen, Partner
Bober, Markey, Fedorovich & Company*

“The MTax has offered me a practical and high quality education in all areas of taxation. I am very proud to be a graduate of this outstanding program.”

*Frank Vari
Corporate Tax Executive*

I constantly hear the need for international tax talent. I recently discovered the University of Akron in Ohio is launching a new online Master of Taxation program with an emphasis in international tax. This may be the first of its kind, designed to address a significant need in the market.

*Gale Crosley
Crosley & Company*