

Articulate Storyline

What is Articulate Storyline?

Storyline, a program made by Articulate, is a program used to create interactive slideshows, screencasts and simulations. Similar to Adobe Captivate, Storyline allows for the rapid development of eLearning content.

Interactive slideshows created with Storyline can deliver text, audio, and video content to your students and can mix together these medias to create interactive activities. Storyline is compatible with Springboard, so anything you can create can easily be added to your online course page

Why Would You Use It?

- ◆ Easily create self-paced, narrated presentations
- ◆ Works with existing Powerpoint files
- ◆ Deliver content in interactive ways to better engage students in the online environment
- ◆ Offer feedback to students in the form of quiz questions, writing prompts, and other activities
- ◆ Embed multimedia within a presentation to give context to the media
- ◆ Create screencasts for software demonstrations
- ◆ Provide activities for multiple learning styles by including Storyline presentations along with other learning materials
- ◆ Create presentations that can be viewed on iPads and other mobile devices

Where Can You Learn More?

Contact Design and Development Services to discuss options for incorporating Storyline materials into your Springboard course.

- ◆ Contact Wendy Lampner at wjl3@uakron.edu or 330-972-2149
- ◆ Learn more about Articulate online:
<http://www.articulate.com/products/storyline-overview.php>
- ◆ View the Articulate Showcase to see more examples of what is possible:
<http://www.articulate.com/products/storyline-showcase.php>

If you want to experiment on your own, the Articulate Storyline online tutorials page has an extensive library of both video and text tutorials:

- ◆ <http://community.articulate.com/tutorials/products/getting-started-with-articulate-storyline.aspx>
- ◆ Compare Articulate to Adobe Captivate to see which package meets your needs:
<http://www.adobe.com/products/captivate.html>

Getting to Know Articulate

1 Custom Logo

2 Dynamic Navigation

3 Audio Controls

4 Content

5 Interactive Elements

4

5

3

4

Full Transcript | Glossary

Division 26: Society for the History of Psychology

The 1960s brought heightened interest in the history of psychology. This interest resulted in the creation of a host of activities and organizations dedicated to making the history of psychology an active area of research, teaching and service.

Click each image to learn more.

AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGIST

Society for the History of Psychology

PREV NEXT

6 Audio Transcripts

7 Interactive Content

6

7

Full Transcript | Glossary

Division 26: Society for the History of Psychology

Founding Division 26

Clinical psychologist Robert I. Watson, a leader in the history of psychology, is known for banding together with several psychologists within the American Psychological Association (APA), who also shared the same passion for history. Watson authored an article titled, "The History of Psychology: A Neglected Area." He noted that psychology's history needed more focus and attention. Watson, along with his APA colleagues, formed "Division 26," calling it the History of Psychology Group. Today, APA Division 26 is called Society for the History of Psychology.

close X

PREV NEXT