

BUTECH BLISS

Butech Bliss is a family owned business and is a leader in the steel industry proving innovative solutions to keep our customers running at high production levels. Our services include providing equipment solutions for coil processing, cold reduction and mill application equipment. Metal producers, service centers and toll processors around the world have relied on us to create solutions for their production needs. We build cut-to-length lines, shears, hydraulic levelers, rolling mill equipment and extrusion equipment. Our company's services include engineering services, manufacturing, field service, shop rebuild services and spare equipment parts on all types of metal processing equipment.

At Butech Bliss we are the team working to find answers to the most challenging obstacles our customers face in the steel industry. We strive to create innovative solutions that allow our customer's to thrive and be highly competitive. With the dedication of over 285 employees, Butech Bliss offers unmatched technical leadership, continuous improvements in quality, and a diversified product portfolio to reach new customers and industries. Butech Bliss is able to achieve these objectives through the hiring and retention of talented people. Providing a rewarding environment in which our employees can succeed is important to us. Feel free to stop by our display and speak to one of our team members about the challenging and rewarding work that we do.

www.ButechBliss.com/careers