PEOPLE. INNOVATION. TECHNOLOGY.

OUR PEOPLE are our heartbeat. We are diverse, yet united in our belief that what we do makes a difference. Doing the right thing is important to each one of us. Integrity in our service, products, technology and interactions with our clients is what makes the ROSEN team stand out. Our people are smart, motivated to offer only the best and work as a team to maintain this. With 3,600 people world-wide we are a force to be reckoned with.

OUR INNOVATION comes from our people. ROSEN was established by Mr. Hermann Rosen in 1981. As a company, ROSEN reflects his family values. We understand the importance of a work/life balance. That is, embracing our people's need for a complete and fulfilling life in which work is a support for the life they wish to live. ROSEN is an established company that has continued to grow through even the toughest global economic challenges. We offer a secure future in an environment that fosters creativity and encourages initiative. We are a "can do" organization.

Training and education is an important investment in our people. It is a necessity for every person's professional growth and career satisfaction. True innovation can only come from motivated people. ROSEN was started through one man's vision and continues to grow through the innovation of our people. Our structure as a private company allows more flexibility and individuality than many other "corporate" companies. This flexibility is important to our people and one of our unique strengths in industry.

OUR TECHNOLOGY is what keeps us ahead and secures our future. We invest in it. With four research and development facilities world-wide, our investment in research and development is significant. Without our people and their innovation, we would have no technology advancement and no future. We are the industry leader and our family of people are committed to the future. We are empowered by technology.
