As a community outreach effort William C. Fiala, Professor of Practice in the School of Allied Health Technology, instructed members of the Aultman Medical Services Organization on January 18, 2019, Akron members of Summa Health Network on January 23, 2019, and Medina members of Summa Health Network on January 25, 2019 toward learning more than 300 changes to the code set used by physicians, nurse practitioners, and other healthcare providers to report their services.

Among the services covered were autism assessment and treatment services, a new aortic value replacement technique, implantation of a wireless pacemaker, revision of gastrostomy for feeding tubes, and ultrasound elastography. Participants in the program were awarded continuing education credits.
