Letter from the IOGSC President

Hi everyone!

My name is Ben Michael, and I am proud to be serving as this year's IOGSC President. I am excited to share our updates for this year, as we have continued our programming efforts from last year and have directed effort toward alumni engagement thanks to our partner club, IOAC.

To start the semester, we welcomed our new cohort of doctoral and terminal master's students into the program with our annual student run orientation. This orientation allows the incoming cohorts to meet the current student body as well as have an easier transition into the program by being paired with a student mentor. We also have continued the tradition of our annual fall potluck, where lots of great dishes were made and pickleball games played, thanks to the generosity of Dr. Diefendorff for hosting!

We have had several amazing programs thanks to our hard-working committees during the fall semester. Our philanthropy committee organized and created the opportunity for our students to participate in the Akron Walk to End Alzheimer's that took place on campus. Our speaker series committee brought in some of our incredible alumni to speak to our students regarding their research as well as guidance for career opportunities. Thank you to Dr. Allison Gabriel, Dr. Sabina Samipour-Biel, and Dr. Gina Thoebes for taking their valuable time to provide our students with such rich information! We also held a student led internship panel, where current students presented their experiences working in IO. Both IOGSC and IOAC would like to continue to strengthen our alumni engagement with our current students. For those that would be interested in connecting to discuss ways to be more involved with IOGSC / IOAC, please contact either myself (btm67@uakron.edu) or our IOAC president, Nicole Baker (nmb118@uakron.edu).

We have also continued our Coffee & Collab sessions bi-weekly, alternating coffee shop locations around the Akron area for our students to study, socialize, and work together with others. The Coffee & Collab sessions allows a positive space for our student community to continue to develop as well as an opportunity for students to step away from campus and explore the Akron area.

I am incredibly proud of the hard work that our IOGSC / IOAC committee chairs and members have put into the year thus far and I look forward to the continued momentum of community building and alumni engagement within the program. Additionally, I would like to thank both the IOGSC and IOAC executive boards for their hard work and effort throughout the semester that have shaped the program into what it is today.

Happy Holidays!

Update from IOAC

Hello everyone!

My name is Nicole Baker, and I have the pleasure of serving as President of the I/O Alumni Club (IOAC). Since assuming this position in August, I've had the opportunity to work alongside current students, faculty, and alumni to increase engagement within the I/O community and continue fostering an environment of collaboration and belonging.

As we reflect on another dynamic year, I'm proud to share the progress we've made in building the foundation of our newly formed club and its impact on the graduate program. A major focus this year has been establishing and strengthening our alumni network – an effort made possible with the support of our faculty and our sister club, IOGSC. Alumni are a vital part of our community, and we recognize the importance of not only maintaining connections but also fostering a culture of ongoing engagement and collaboration.

Last Fall, Lindsey Wilcoxon and Annie Winkhart led a series of Alumni Happy Hours, offering a unique opportunity for local alumni to reconnect, catch up with faculty, and meet current students. These informal gatherings helped bridge the gap between past and present, and we were thrilled by the turnout and the meaningful conversations that followed. The success of these events underscores the strength of our network and the value of staying connected, no matter where our professional paths may lead. In addition to strengthening alumni connections, we've continued our efforts with the Speaker Series. Notable alumni such as Dr. Allison Gabriel, Dr. Sabina Samipour-Biel, and Dr. Gina Phelps Thoebe have returned to deliver impactful talks that deepen our understanding of research and the role of an I/O psychologist. Dr. Gabriel shared groundbreaking research that she is conducting with Purdue University's Mitch Daniels School of Business. Dr. Samipour-Biel discussed the limitless career opportunities available to I/O psychologists, shifting the focus beyond just industrial and organizational domains. Dr. Thoebe shared the fascinating results of her recently defended dissertation and her career as the first I/O psychologist in the NFL. Stay tuned for our future speaker series talks!

Finally, as part of our ongoing commitment to strengthening the Akron community, we've been developing an Alumni Advisory Board, providing our alumni with a hands-on opportunity to shape and support the future of UAkron's I/O psychology program. These efforts will include workshops open to the I/O community, collaboration with current students and faculty, and mentorship for students eager to begin their careers.

Looking ahead, we are excited to build on these initiatives and continue to strengthen the sense of community within our program. We are grateful to our alumni for their continued support, and we are energized by the momentum we've built this year.

Thank you for your dedication to our program and to one another. We look forward to another year of growth, connection, and shared success.

The University of Akron's 2025 SIOP Alumni Reception

Hello Alumni,

Thank you for your continued support of the UA I/O Alumni Reception at SIOP. This year's reception will be held on Friday, April 4th from 7:00 pm - 9:30 pm at the Rock Bottom Restaurant & Brewery in downtown Denver (1001 16th St A-100, Denver, CO 80265), just a couple of blocks down the street from the convention center. We look forward to another wonderful reunion of fellow I/O graduates, faculty, and current students of the program.
