VI. Committee Reports.

A. Programs: Tom & Diane Vukovich reported that an article describing Frank Thomas’s November presentation has been submitted to Martha Vye for possible inclusion in the next newsletter. A virtual presentation by the U of A Department of Music will be presented December 16, 2020. The program dates and topics planned for Spring 2021 are:

- March 17, 2021 Mr. Victor Fleischer – Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company: A Photographic History
- April 21, 2021 Dr. Harvey Sterns – The City of Akron – Is it an Age-Friendly City?

B. Membership: Mel Vye reported new 68 new members, 228 active members, 296 on the books and a scholarship donation of $20.

C. Political Action. Bob Gandee had no report. Dan Sheffer was the Zoom host for the last meeting of OCHER and said he would circulate the report presented by Gerald Newsom of STRS.

D. Benefits. Linda Sugarman reported Retiree Dependent benefits for non-bargaining members end on December 31, 2020. We hope all of those members have obtained insurance to supplement their original Medicare for January 1, 2021. Those who have chosen HMO’s are reminded to be careful about staying in network.

At this point Dan Sheffer made a presentation about benefits.

Dan obtained the following information from an AAUP negotiator with permission from the AAUP attorney. The University was at that time intending to end Retiree Dependent health benefits for the bargaining unit members on December 31, 2020. Dan sent an email to members of AUAR letting them know this information. Dan does not have a separate list of the 95 bargaining unit members, so he has to send this information to the whole AUAR email list.

E. Faculty Senate. Ali Hajjafar reported:

Faculty Senate Meeting November 5, 2020

Chair Saliga called the meeting to order. She mentioned a few items that would be covered during the meeting.

Executive Committee reported that they met four times since the last regular Senate meeting including the meeting with Provost Wiencek. Topics discussed included: Brightspace grading, the co-requisite model, consequences of reorganization, CR/NC, unit name changes, searches for administrators, work load, program assessment and program review, program reinstatement, reorganization, Spring 2021 models, creation of the childcare work group, and appointment of faculty members to the OAA restructuring work group. They also reported that President Miller has chosen not to meet with the FSEC. President Miller in his remarks explained the status of the University and COVID. He said we’ve managed to keep the COVID level below or at the county levels. No real serious sickness from the disease but we’ve had some with bad symptoms. He said he was concerned about the level of county and it caused a bit of surge in campus and he believed the University should raise the COVID level to 2C. He said most activities would continue but more restrictions in residence halls. He said they are a little concerned with Thanksgiving. Some 800 students are on campus through the holidays and we’re prepared to take care of them. He said students were asking to be tested before going home. All classes will be virtual after the holiday, but campus will stay open. Testing continues to evolve and the University is working on that and talks at the state level on testing costs and buying in bulk. He said we have some tests that we got through state that we are using and they are better tests. He said commencement for Winter and Spring depends on conditions at the time. Somewhat face to face mainly with students in a controlled environment. Last Spring’s graduates will be included as well. He said it is not clear what will happen next semester. We may start in hybrid form. Hoping we’ll get some vaccines and move into a better model. He said we were able to attend a live homecoming with a crowning and very spaced out. Regarding his absence at FSEC meetings, he brought up two reasons. First, EC is an advisory group to the Provost. Second, some members of EC are AAUP officers as well. He thinks that FSEC is envisioned to be separate from CBA. He said the B.O.T. and I have to put ourselves in a situation where we are in a conflict of interest, we should work toward a situation where we can work with the faculty on faculty academic issues and the Union on Union issues and keep these two issues separate.

Provost Weincek in his remarks mentioned that as things come across his desk he would ask Faculty Senate and University Council for advice. He talked about Ohio Exchange database that gives access to faculty scholarships and business. He mentioned the departure of the Dean of Wayne College and he is working on that. On discussions about revised Spring semester, he is waiting to receive input from FS and UC before making that announcement. On moving up on planning activities, he said he is looking to get it up and running for next year and a half, put in place a two year process as well to run concurrently. He added he is consulting with FSEC regarding closures and potential reopening of programs that were closed. He said Dean searches are ongoing, especially Dean of BCAS going along well. At the end, he turned over his time to Cher Hendricks who has been looking at OAA reorganization. She gave a power point presentation on that.

Before committee reports, the list of graduates for Fall 2020 was approved.

APC brought three action items on the floor. The first action was regarding the creation of a link containing University policies for students that faculty may choose to refer to on their syllabi. The second action was regarding counting the last attempt of a repeated course for University requirements. The third action was regarding creation of criteria for a part-time student to be included on the Dean’s List. Curriculum review committee brought 29 course proposals and 6 program proposals for approval. Computing and Communication Technology Committee presented a written report. AAUP reported that they are negotiating a new contract.

Graduate Council representative reported that at the Council the composition of the Council based on types and number of graduate students and types and number of graduate faculty and programs are discussed. They want to have a diverse representation. They are looking at standing committees as well.

GSG representative reported on a survey for students to measure mental health of graduate students, having workshop for graduate students, working on changes to Spring semester for welfare of students, and funding for traveling to conferences. USG representative reported that they have been providing input on Spring semester and other questions brought to them. They are looking to support students in quarantine and socializing while encouraging mask wearing.

At the end, the Chair announced that she needs three volunteers or nominations to serve on childcare work group.
