BACHELOR OF ORGANIZATIONAL SUPERVISION

The Bachelor of Organizational Supervision (BOS) degree is a unique program, specifically designed for students who hold an associate degree or have completed college courses that total 60 or more credit hours.

The BOS degree helps strengthen your organizational leadership and supervisory skills so you can take on more responsibility, regardless of the field. It can be completed in as little as two years.

This bachelor’s degree is the next step for people who
• need a bachelor's degree to advance their career.
• want a degree that teaches leadership and supervisory skills.
• want a degree that applies to a variety of professions.
• need classes offered at times that won't conflict with work schedules.
• always wanted to earn a bachelor’s degree.

APPLY NOW!

ADMISSIONS: uakron.edu/admissions

ADVISING: uakron.edu/cast/advising

Contact Program Director Susan Pope at 330-972-6597 or spope@uakron.edu, or Department Chair Enoch Damson at 330-972-7162 or damson@uakron.edu.

Visit uakron.edu/bit for more information.
PRACTICAL SKILLS THAT EMPLOYERS DEMAND. AND THE SALARY TO MATCH.

BACHELOR OF ORGANIZATIONAL SUPERVISION

- ACBSP accredited degree program
- Helps strengthen your leadership and supervisory skills
- Flexible day, evening, and online classes

uakron.edu/bit