College of Education Weekly Newsletter
Presented by Akron Council of Education Students

Week of November 5th

Volunteer Opportunity

Want practice tutoring on the high school level while still having flexibility with your busy college schedule?

Come to Buchtel High School with ACES to tutor the boy’s basketball team after school!

Contact aces.uakron@gmail.com for more information.

Courses for Spring 2019 Semester

Looking for fun classes to take next semester? Check these out!

ST: Literature and Language—The Rhetoric of God (3300:389-002)
Meets MW 11:45 a.m.—1:00 p.m.
Study the attempts of mystics to put the Divine into language. Course fulfills Global Diversity and World/Multicultural Literature Elective.

Advanced Script Writing (3300: 379—001)
Meets MW 1:15 p.m.—2:30 p.m.
Learn to write screenplays. Pre-req. of intro course can be overridden. Email the professor for this.

Contact Dr. Lance Svehla at lms3@uakron.edu for more information.

ACES Social Recaps

ACES held two open forums with local professionals answering questions and giving advice.

On October 18th, Don Matthew, HS Science teacher at Glenville High; Walter Scratchings, Music teacher at Jennings Middle School; and Timothy Dortch, retired teacher and Administrator from Lorain City Schools, focused on classroom management, how to deal with parents and students alike, and curriculum as a whole.

On October 29th, Ms. Joelle Magyar, Superintendent of the Brecksville-Broadview Heights School District, and Mr. Ryan Shanor, Principal of Norton High School, gave opinions about good interviewing strategies and qualities they look for in candidates.

Student Spotlight

Meet Alaina Jackson!
Junior, AYA Integrated Language Arts
Fun Fact: “I sponsor a 5-year-old giraffe named Skye at the Australia Zoo”

Got a volunteer opportunity or a COE tip? Email it to: aces.uakron@gmail.com

Join Akron Council of Education Students!
Next ACES Meeting: Tuesday, November 13th at 6:00 p.m. in Zook 111