HONORING THE INNOVATIONS OF WOMEN IN ENGINEERING, TECHNOLOGY, MATHEMATICS AND THE SCIENCES

An interactive experience to expose girls in grades one through six to exciting careers in science, math, engineering and technology.

Career Day is designed to:

1. Involve children in interactive projects that relate to occupations in science, technology, engineering and math (STEM).
2. Showcase women professionals in a variety of occupations as role models.
3. Children in grades one through six will be grouped by age to participate in activities with women professionals from such fields as engineering, polymer science, chemistry, ... have approximately 15 children so that each child can get involved in the exciting experiments or demonstrations scheduled.

Participants can plan on:

• an interactive morning with dynamic women from a variety of exciting professions;
• hands-on activities with these professions;
• refreshments;
• entertainment; and
• a take-home bag filled with more hands-on projects and mementos of the day.
