Statement of Purpose

This issue of The University of Akron English Department Course Bulletin reflects the efforts of the Department faculty to enrich the Department curriculum.

In addition to courses in Shakespeare, English literature, American literature, and world literature, a wide range of writing and linguistics courses are offered for undergraduate and graduate students.

Prospective students will find upcoming courses described by the professors who will teach them. These descriptions provide the student with a clearer outline of course content and requirements than can be found in either The University of Akron's General Bulletin or the class schedule bulletin which is issued by the University.

Courses are arranged in this Course Bulletin in numerical order. Courses which satisfy the Shakespeare, linguistics, and world/multicultural literature requirements, as well as the minor requirements, are identified in the course descriptions.

The English faculty hopes this bulletin will be helpful to advisors and students in planning the best possible selection of major courses and electives.

The following courses DO NOT count toward the English major or minor degree requirements:

ENGL 110; ENGL 111; ENGL 112; ENGL 250; ENGL 252; and ENGL 281.

Includes types of reports, memoranda, and letters; techniques of research, documentation, and oral presentations. Prerequisites: ENGL:121, ENGL:111, or equivalent.

283  Film Appreciation  3 credit hours
Initiates students into the thoughtful study of film as a form of visual narrative. Our emphases will be on: 1) the crucial elements of filmmaking, 2) the process of close viewing, and 3) the power of critical analysis. Attention will be paid to a diversity of films, filmmakers, and genres. Satisfies the Minor in Popular Literature & Film requirement. Satisfies the General Education Tier II: Disciplinary Area Courses “Arts” Requirement.

489/589  Women’s Writing, Women’s Lives  3 credit hours
Through a focus on a diverse cross-section of women’s memoirs and self-writing, this course will examine how gender, race, sexuality, audience, and location shape works in these genres. How do women use writing to track their experiences? How do their methods compare to those used by those writing from other subject positions? We will explore strategies women have used to turn their experiences into text, and what purposes they aim to fulfill in doing so. This course runs on a hybrid model. Most class activities will be online and asynchronous; 3 required face-to-face online meetings will take place on Tuesdays, 4:15-6:45pm.

466/566  Linguistics & Language Arts  3 credit hours
A foundation course in linguistics with a focus on pedagogical implications for second language (L2) learners. Fundamental concepts in the core of linguistics, including morphology, syntax, semantics, phonetics, phonology, and pragmatics as well as in other fields of linguistics, such as sociolinguistics are covered in lectures and structured linguistic exercises with both English and other languages for contrastive analyses. Satisfies the requirement for graduate and undergraduate students pursuing the Certificate in TESL and the Undergraduate Certificate in Linguistic Studies.
611  Argument and Research Writing  3 credit hours
This course explores the teaching, reading, and writing of argument and research. In it, we will attempt to both expand and refine the perception of what argument is, what research is, and what each can be. We will contemplate the value of argument and research not only for the academy but also for a democratic society and for personal growth. Students will create lesson plans, read a variety of classical and contemporary essays, and write on self-selected topics. Required for the M.A. in English, the Certificate in English Dual Credit Preparation, and the English Dual Credit Credentialing Module. Elective for Certificate in Composition Studies.

629  Twentieth Century Literature  3 credit hours
This fully online course emphasizes recent approaches to Twentieth Century American Literature, and it asks teachers to undertake scholarly research appropriate for the graduate level. Course objectives are, first, to help teachers expand their knowledge of pedagogically useful literary works and interpretive methods, and second, to consider in detail how such knowledge might impact the secondary school classroom. While pedagogical issues will be a consistent focus of our discussions, the course will also be valuable to non-teachers seeking growth through close study of benchmark texts in the multicultural canon. Satisfies the M.A. in Literature requirement for American Literature after 1865, and the NEOMFA Literature requirement. Counts toward the Certificate in English Dual Credit Preparation, and the English Dual Credit Credentialing Module.

With an emphasis on diverse voices and perspectives, readings will include a range of works, including (but not limited to) classic adolescent novels such as S.E. Hinton’s The Outsiders and contemporary best sellers, All the Light We Cannot See by Anthony Doerr and The Hunger Games by Suzanne Collins.

Limited to students admitted to the NEOMFA program.

Over the past generation or so, the memoir has emerged as the dominant stylistic and commercial force in American nonfiction. In this MFA craft & theory course, we will trace the history and influence of the “nobody memoir,” books written by common people about some important facet of their lives, beginning with groundbreaking works by Tobias Wolff and Mary Karr and continuing to the present. We will also explore the way celebrities and influencers have used the genre to present their narratives. In addition to Wolff and Karr, the reading list (subject to change) will include Alison Bechdel, Patti Smith, Brian Broome, and Rob Sheffield. Students will write and present critical essays and produce their own works of personal nonfiction. Limited to students admitted to the NEOMFA program.

Department of English BA/MA Accelerated Degree Pathway (ADP)

ACCELERATED OPTION

You can earn your bachelor’s and master’s in less time and at a significant savings.

The Accelerated Degree Pathway (ADP) program is a 5-year bridge program between our undergraduate B. A. Degree in English and our graduate M. A. in English degrees. Selected students can complete up to 9 credits of graduate coursework during their fourth undergraduate year at the University of Akron. Students will then transition into our M. A. graduate program, pending satisfactory fulfillment of their undergraduate degree and graduate program admission requirements. Selected students have the potential to earn both an undergraduate and graduate degree from the University of Akron in 5 years.

The advantages to the accelerated program include:

- Flexibility during graduate school.
  Students can complete graduate classes while fulfilling undergraduate degree requirements.

- Reduce time.
  Students start fulfilling graduate school requirements sooner. The ADP Program engages students in graduate level courses before their peers and provides the opportunity to make connections with graduate instructors and other students in the program.

- Save tuition costs.
  Students can save tuition costs by completing up to 9 graduate credit hours at the undergraduate price. These same graduate credits will be applied to their graduate degree at The University of Akron.

Curriculum

The 5-Year Accelerated Degree Pathway (ADP) Program curriculum includes the same coursework offered in the English undergraduate and graduate programs.

Check out our handbook here.

Interested students should contact our Assistant Chair, Prof. Lisa Rhoades at rhoades@uakron.edu.
Graduate Programs in English

Admission Requirements

M.A. Program

To be accepted into the M.A. program, the English Department requires that applicants have a B.A. in English, a minor in English, or other suitable course preparation.

To qualify for full admission, a student must meet the Graduate School requirement of a minimum overall GPA of 2.75 for four years or 3.0 over the last two years.

Complete the online application through the Graduate School. Applicants must request that official transcripts of undergraduate and, if applicable, graduate work, be sent to the Graduate School. A nonrefundable application fee is also required. Applications should be received at least six weeks prior to registration, which may occur in the fall, spring, or summer terms.

To qualify for provisional admission, the Graduate School requires a minimum overall GPA of 2.5 over four years or 2.75 over the last two years. A student whose GPA falls below 2.75 or who lacks the B.A. in English may be granted deferred admission and given post-baccalaureate status, which is a probationary category.

NEOMFA Program

Applicants to the NEOMFA in Creative Writing must be accepted by the Graduate School at The University of Akron or one of the other three participating universities. They must also submit three letters of recommendation, transcripts, and a writing portfolio. The portfolio will be reviewed by an admissions committee of members from all four universities. Applicants using The University of Akron as a “gateway” school for the MFA must additionally satisfy the requirements for the M.A. program listed above.

For those students admitted to the NEOMFA program, up to nine credits from previously uncompleted graduate degrees may be accepted for transfer credit. Of the nine elective credits, up to six may be from Advisor-approved courses not solely restricted to graduates.
Financial Aid
Graduate Assistantships

Graduate assistantships in the Department of English are awarded on a competitive basis to MFA students. Applications for fall appointments will be accepted until February 1.

Students may renew twice, for a total of three years of support.

Along with the application form, applicants for assistantships must submit a clean copy of a writing sample in the form of a typed essay completed in a college course (5-10 pages), a letter of application, and two letters of recommendation. Scores from the Graduate Record Examination are not required. Please email all materials directly to the Graduate Coordinator, Dr. Hillary Nunn, at nunn@uakron.edu.

The letter of application should address:

1. why you are interested in the position
2. what prepares you for the position both as far as your work history and academic preparation, and
3. how your experiences and interests would contribute to the program’s academic atmosphere.
